Description

Set of 12 Baccarat crystal white wine glasses; this model was produced by the St. Louis and Baccarat crystal glassworks, which shared the same catalog until the mid-19th century, and is similar to the current Trianon model. This model, featured in the 1841 catalog of the Baccarat and St. Louis crystal factories, first appeared during the Restoration. These glasses were produced in the second half of the 19th century; therefore, they are not signed on the base (the acid-etched stamp has been present on the crystal works' productions since 1936). All glasses are in perfect condition. Other glasses of this model are available in our gallery.
