Description

Six designer chairs created by Augusto Bozzi for Saporiti in the 1950s and 1960s that represent a distinctive example of the modernist aesthetic of that period. The enameled metal legs provide stability, while the orange fabric upholstery preserves the authenticity and charm of the era. A distinctive detail is the oval geometric slit at the bottom of the backrest, designed to visually and structurally lighten the chair, giving it a unique and recognizable silhouette. This set of chairs is ideal for enhancing spaces that seek a refined design rooted in the history of modern furniture. MOSESE0322686
