Description

A pair of Empire-style columned nightstands, crafted from walnut and dating to the early 19th century in Italy. These elegant pieces feature a columned structure resting on a solid square base, a distinctive characteristic of the Empire style. Each nightstand features a hinged front door that opens to reveal four interior shelves made of fir, ideal for storing everyday items or personal collections. The walnut woodwork gives the nightstands a refined appearance, perfectly in keeping with the classic aesthetic of the period. These pieces of furniture are ideal for enriching spaces with a touch of history and craftsmanship. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this product requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual condition of the furniture as fully as possible
