Description

Pair of gilded bronze candlesticks, 19th century. An exquisite pair of finely gilded bronze candlesticks, featuring an elegant neoclassical design characterized by slender proportions and rich yet restrained ornamentation in the classical style. The structure features a molded circular base, embellished with refined geometric and foliage motifs. The shaft, in the shape of a faceted truncated pyramid, is punctuated by elegant moldings and culminates in a refined capital adorned with pod motifs, supported by a small decorated foot. The craftsmanship of the ornamental details is particularly exquisite, featuring garlands, ovoid motifs, and acanthus leaves, enhanced by the warm gilding of the bronze. The strictly symmetrical composition lends the pair an elegant and stately
