Description

18th-century glassware: Ring-shaped flask made of colorless, translucent glass, decorated on both sides with three hot-applied glass bands shaped with pliers. Another band on the lower part. Screw-top neck. Trace of the blow mark. France, 18th century. Very good condition: ribbon perfectly intact, no cracks; two slight chips on the neck (see photo), a few scratches here and there attesting to the age of this piece. Free shipping to metropolitan France. Please contact me by email if possible. I am available to provide further information.
