cmOrigin: ItalyPeriod: 1970sMaterial: Fine rattan rods assembled in parallel lines (a technique known as "pencil reed"); an exotic basketry and cabinetmaking technique highly prized in high-end design of the 1970s.The marquetry-crafted base, attributed to Vivai del Sud (though unstamped), along with the symmetry of the design, make this piece a superb decorative object. Whether used as a plant stand or a base for a sculpture, this dark bamboo piece offers an elegant texture enhanced by a patina characteristic of the Mid-Century style.A second column (of a different size and color) is visible in
