Description

An impressive sculpture in the shape of a male bust/torso, crafted from hand-blown Murano glass. Created using the "sommerso" (submerged) and "inclusions" techniques, the transparent glass encases elegant drips and murrine in shades of blue, gray, amber, and green. The fluid veins follow the musculature of the torso, creating a dynamic, three-dimensional effect. The sculpture rests on a cylindrical base made of satin-finished glass that enhances its lightness and verticality. A piece with great visual impact, typical of contemporary Murano art dedicated to the human figure. Each piece is unique due to its handcrafted nature. The photos show different views of the piece, which changes color and reflects light differently depending on the lighting. CONDITION: Excellent condition. No
