Description

A beautiful still life depicting, on a white tablecloth, a small jug--known as a "gargoulette"--made of green-glazed terracotta, surrounded by three yellow and green apples. This gargoulette is typical of the Languedoc region. Light coming from the left creates a lovely reflection on the belly of the vessel. A beautiful, well-balanced composition set against a light brown background. Molded wooden frame, painted with a light gray wipe-on finish. French art, circa 1950-60.
