Description

Pair of Napoleon III Planters, Paris Porcelain, 19th Century, Matching Designs HAY26PAR001Pair of Napoleon III Planters in Paris Porcelain - 19th Century - Symmetrical and matching designs An elegant pair of planters from the Napoleon III period, made of Paris Porcelain, dating from the 19th century. These two planters feature a deep black background, enhanced by a delicate polychrome design of roses and foliage in shades of pink, mauve, and green. The main appeal of this pair lies in the particularly refined composition of its designs: the two bouquets are symmetrical and mirror-image, creating a true mirror effect. Each planter thus mirrors the other with an inverted floral composition, emphasizing their design as a perfectly complementary decorative pair. The molded rims and bases lend the set a beautiful elegance, typical of the decorative style of the Napoleon III period. Period: Napoleon III, 19th century Origin: Paris Porcelain Height: 20 cm Diameter: 20 cm Condition: very good overall condition. No apparent damage, cracks, or visible chips. A few slight signs of wear and fine surface scratches, mainly on the black background, consistent with the age and use of the pieces, without detracting from their appearance. A very elegant decorative pair, whose symmetry and the perfect contrast between the two floral designs are a true aesthetic asset.
