Description

Replogle Sculptural Globe by Tom Torrens
The Replogle "Le Monde Classique" floor globe features a metal structure comprising a globe and a protractor. It is mounted on a sculptural base designed by artist Tom Torrens. Tom Torrens is an American sculptor renowned for his Brutalist- and modern-inspired metal works; the globe is signed "TT" at the base of the triangular pyramid-shaped pedestal. The geometric pyramidal base is made of thick welded cast iron with a dark brown textured finish, contrasting the organic curves of the cartographic sphere with sharp, postmodern lines. The globe is labeled in French and can rotate in all directions. It also features a relief map showing mountain ranges. 59 cm wide and 130 cm tall. Made in the United States. Translated with DeepL.com (free version)
