Description

French silver gilt mounted porcelain double scent bottle, the mounts display the makers mark JM topped by a hammer and stars, retailed by Boucheron. With English import marks for Barr, Moering and Co London 1907, who probably acted as import agents for Boucheron. The porcelain is in the style of Vincennes, the porcelain body cylindrical, painted in blue with gilt bordered oval cartouches, painted with exotic birds on a white ground, the mounts chased with foliage. One neck further stamped 'Boucheron Paris-Londres' and with engraved inventory number '1370'. The marks are generally clear. There is overall some surface scratching to both the mounts and the porcelain. There is one more obvious scratch to the porcelain body, below one of the birds. This has resulted in a small loss to
