the handle fasteners is a stylized bat, a night symbol and fantastic, highly prized in the Art Nouveau repertoire and late-century symbolism. The collar is enhanced by a large openwork applied headband representing grape clusters and wild vine foliage. Made of hand-shaped brass, offering a delicately hammered surface with a warm and nuanced patina of origin. The hallmark of the KAYSER eagle house above the nominative coat of arms. is perfectly clear under the base. Remarkable state of preservation for a piece made of brass hammered from this scale: Intact structure: No bumps, no shocks, no deformations. The openwork headband and the elements Under the handles are perfectly preserved. Patina: An ancient patina of preserved origin. The interior has a natural green-grey oxidation testifying to its authenticity. The presence of the bat motif considerably reinforces the collection value of the coin.
