

Pair Of Directoire-style Armchairs In White Patina And Silk Velvet

450 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Painted wood

Description

Pair of Directoire armchairs, similar in style to Louis XVI, dating from the first half of the 20th century. These chairs are distinguished by their delicate re-finished woodwork, featuring a beautiful original patina that highlights the elegance of their architectural lines and their tapered, fluted legs. They feature high-quality traditional upholstery. The silky fabric, with stripes and foliage motifs in shades of gold and cream, shows slight signs of wear and a patina of age that bear witness to its history without detracting from its elegance. The set is enhanced by original studding, whose subtle surface oxidation blends harmoniously into the design, reinforcing the poetic charm and lived-in character of these pieces. The woodwork is in excellent condition--solid, stable, and without any
