Description

Gilded bronze tondo with mythological decoration - The Arts and the Muses - 19th century
An important circular tondo in gilded, repoussé bronze, featuring a very rich relief decoration inspired by mythology and allegory. The composition is organized around a central medallion depicting a lyre surrounded by two putti, symbols of music and the arts. All around it unfolds a multitude of figures drawn from the repertoire of Antiquity: draped or nude female figures, musicians, putti, and figures accompanied by various attributes. The ensemble evokes an allegory of the Arts, Music, and the Muses, in a particularly decorative, richly detailed composition. The bronze work features beautiful reliefs and numerous details: musical instruments, drapery, winged figures, and
