6 900 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Crystal

Description

Austrian goblet made of enamel, rock crystal, and gilded silver, resting on an elegant, carved base in the shape of a pelican feeding its young in its nest. Crafted in Vienna around 1870, this piece demonstrates remarkable skill in goldsmithing and enameling. The particularly original composition combines the richness of the materials with a symbolic and refined iconography. An exceptional piece, both decorative and sculptural, intended for collectors of 19th-century decorative art.
