Description

Oil on canvas. Signed lower right. Cesare Laurenti was a multifaceted artist who played a significant role in the history of the applied arts in Italy between the 19th and 20th centuries, moving between easel painting, mural decoration, sculpture, illustration, architecture, printmaking, monumental ceramics, restoration, technical experimentation, and the antiques trade. His early work was influenced by Domenico Morelli, whose student he was in Naples; some of his realist-style works depict rural scenes featuring shepherdesses and flocks, such as the one presented here. His artistic practice subsequently shifted toward a more Symbolist style, incorporating experiments with various artistic techniques. The work is presented in a period-style frame. ARARNO0313721
