Description

An exceptional beetle-decorated bowl by Daum. A rare multilobed bowl featuring two insects applied using the hot-application technique and then finished on the wheel against a multicolored background of vitrified powders (blue, green, and yellow). The legs were hand-engraved with a stylus. The piece is enhanced by an iridescent surface effect. Signed on the base, circa 1900, 15 cm in diameter, in perfect condition. A rare Art Nouveau piece in superb condition.
