Description

Antique brass lantern frame in the Bagues style. This antique lantern frame is a magnificent example of mid-20th-century luxury lighting. Crafted from brass that was originally gilded, it perfectly embodies the style of the renowned Bagues House, the undisputed benchmark of French neoclassicism. Its airy and refined design is crowned by a crystal pine cone at the base--a classic ornament symbolizing immortality and rebirth, typical of creations from this era. Standing an imposing seventy-two centimeters tall, this antique lantern structure possesses a strong architectural presence, capable of enhancing an entryway or a prestigious stairwell. The brass's patina, hinting at the original gilding, lends the piece authentic charm and historical depth. Please contact us before placing an order to
