Description

Important early 20th-century Chinese lacquer chest. A very beautiful, generously sized piece, 70 cm wide, depicting two five-clawed imperial dragons on a black lacquer background, enhanced by cloisonné bronze plaques with turquoise backgrounds that create a stunning effect. Exquisite craftsmanship is evident in the details of the lacquer as well as in the superb execution of the numerous enameled plaques. It features an interesting symbol: the sacred pearl, a symbol of sovereignty and power in ancient China. The piece is in excellent original condition and has never been restored. A very rare piece with great decorative appeal. Shipping available to France and worldwide via a professional, specialized carrier. Invoice and certificate provided.
