

Terracotta Bust: Little Girl Wearing A Fox Skin, Inspired By 19th-century Fairy Tales

1 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Terracotta

Height : 38 cm

Description

A charming terracotta bust depicting a young girl wearing a fox pelt, whose head and paws delicately frame her face. With her mischievous expression, her smile, and her lively gaze, this young girl seems to have stepped straight out of a 19th-century fairy tale or folk legend. The expressive modeling of the face, the movement of the hair, and the realistic rendering of the fur are all evidence of fine sculptural craftsmanship. The work bears an incised signature on the back, apparently "Bernard" or "Bernardi," to be identified more precisely. The bust rests on a blackened wooden pedestal. It features a beautiful antique patina and is in good overall condition. Note: A finger is missing from the right hand; this is barely noticeable and does not detract from the overall elegance of the piece. A charming,

Dealer

Antoine Claeys - Maison du XVème
antiquaire généraliste

Mobile : 06 85 53 27 42

24 grande Rue

Nogent l'Artaud 02 310

original, and particularly decorative terracotta piece. Period: 19th* century Signature: Bernard or Bernardi, incised on the back Material: terracotta Base: blackened wooden pedestal Total height: 38 cm Condition: good overall condition; one finger missing from the right hand We deliver within France and ship worldwide. Please contact us for a personalized quote.