Description

A beautiful "cabin" or "mail" size travel trunk, a testament to the golden age of long-distance rail travel in the early 20th century. The wooden frame is entirely covered in its original dark-colored coated canvas, reinforced with metal corner brackets and riveted wooden slats. The corners and clasps are made of brass weathered by time. It still features its original thick, topstitched leather pull handle on the side, along with its leather tag holder. Railroad significance: On the right side is an original historic shipping label from the prestigious "EST BAGAGES" (Compagnie des Chemins de Fer de l'Est), a strong marker of authenticity highly sought after by collectors of transportation memorabilia.
