Description

A charming French Provincial ladder-back armchair from the 19th century, crafted in solid wood with a warm, hand-polished patina. The chair's sculpted back features three elegantly curved slats with crescent-shaped cutouts, a hallmark of rural French craftsmanship that balances rustic simplicity with decorative finesse.

The armrests flow gracefully into the front legs, their rounded scroll ends adding a touch of refinement to the otherwise humble form. The seat is hand-woven in natural rush, arranged in a precise geometric pattern that highlights artisanal technique and durability.

This piece embodies the timeless appeal of French country furniture; practical, inviting, and
