Description

Large plaster bust depicting Louis-Philippe I (1773-1850), King of the French from 1830 to 1848, in a general's uniform with ornate fringed epaulets and decorations, including the Legion of Honor, on a square pedestal. A portrait of great finesse and remarkable attention to detail (embroidery, braids, medals), attesting to a first-rate academic sculptor. Signed and dated 1830 on the reverse; signature partially legible. A contemporary piece from the early years of the reign, most likely part of the official production of royal busts distributed to public institutions during the July Monarchy. Dimensions H. 80 cm / W. 60 cm / D. 28 cm Louis-Philippe, plaster bust, July Monarchy, 1830, royal portrait, general's uniform, Legion of Honor, historical sculpture, signed and dated
