Description

Pair of dolphin-shaped candlesticks made of pressed-and-molded glass and brass - 20th century Elegant and decorative pair of pressed-and-molded glass candlesticks, featuring a remarkable design of stylized dolphins. Each candleholder consists of a rearing dolphin, whose sinuous body forms the shaft. The glass, which is particularly luminous, is embossed with a scaled pattern, while the lower section features a finely molded dolphin head. The candleholders rest on a circular base made of molded glass, with a radiating pattern, accented by a brass molding that elegantly highlights the base. The upper section features a brass candle holder and candle holder, creating a lovely contrast between the transparency of the glass and the golden tones of the metal. The marine motif,
