This monumental optical diptych serves as an extraordinary gateway to an immeasurable dimension of shapes and colors. Through its fascinating interplay of perspectives and vibrant color palette, this work immerses us in the world of optical art, where the illusion of movement and depth challenges our visual perception. Furthermore, the geometric details and precision of execution evoke the influence of industrial design, adding a touch of modernity and sophistication. This work also transports us to the psychedelic era of the 1970s through its bold aesthetic and its ability to evoke intense emotions. Dimensions of the unframed image: 64
