Description

Two sets of three narrow closet doors, for a total of six panels, each panel featuring an accordion-style folding mechanism, 18th-century period. The three panels fold into one another, each 33 cm wide, resulting in a minimal floor clearance--which can be very practical in tight spaces or when maximizing space is a priority. Each set consists of three panels: 33 cm wide each and 212 cm high (upper crossbar height 9.5 cm, lower crossbar height 11 cm), for a total linear length of $2 \times 99 \text{ cm} = 198 \text{ cm}$. The original male hinges are included (see photo 9: original condition). Sold stripped on both sides, with a beautiful light green patina preserved. Price: 1,600 EUR.
