Description

A stunning vintage table lamp with a sculptural and graphic design, notable for its silhouette composed of several rounded sections of orange opaline glass, separated by beautiful chrome-plated metal rings. The lamp is topped with a white opaline glass globe, which diffuses a soft, warm light when turned on. With its generous lines and a very successful combination of bright orange, chrome, and opal glass, this lamp has an exceptional decorative presence. A piece with a bold character, particularly elegant in a contemporary interior, a chic Haussmann-style apartment, or a vintage 1970s setting. A lamp that stands on its own and will immediately add a touch of design, retro charm, and sophistication to a console table, sideboard, or side table. Period: 20th century, 1970s style Style: Vintage /
