Description

18th-century glassware: a two-in-one oil and vinegar set, made of translucent, colorless glass, with the necks adorned with hot-applied glass fillets. There is a beautiful and charming pontil mark on the bottom; the glass features slight air bubbles here and there--all of which serve as evidence of this piece's age. This 18th-century French utilitarian glassware is in pristine condition. I have not noted any defects, chips, or cracks. Free shipping to metropolitan France. Please contact me by email if possible. I am available to provide further information.
