Description

A curiosity from the countryside, this lovely basket is made of various types of finely woven rattan. It features a trapezoidal body, with all sides adorned with chromolithographs of young women and mirrors, and has two lids. A "Harvest Basket" designed to transform work and its presentation into a festive occasion, as when set, the cutlery was unpacked and stored in this precious and elegant case. This remarkable piece of folk art is very well preserved despite its fragility and constitutes a collector's item with high decorative value and undeniable romantic charm (it can be used to store various items, such as a small sewing basket, etc.). A rare, high-quality piece with a distinct feminine charm
