Description

An elegant pair of Italian nightstands from the mid-20th century, crafted from chestnut wood. The nightstands are distinguished by their understated and balanced lines, with a solid structure and slender proportions. The upper section features a practical drawer, while the lower section has a compartment with a framed panel door, enhanced by the original hardware. The beautiful natural grain of the chestnut wood lends warmth and character to the pieces, making them ideal for both a bedroom with a rustic yet elegant style and for a country home or historic residence. An authentic pair of mid-20th-century nightstands, both functional and charming, that successfully combine simplicity, sturdiness, and decorative value.
