Description

A large and beautiful Post-Impressionist painting, dating from the interwar period (1920-1930), depicting a luminous, lively scene in the southern Ardèche featuring swimmers and boats along the riverbank: In all likelihood, this is the site known as "Ranc du Pointu" located in the town of Saint-Martin d'Ardèche, with the silhouette of the fortified village of Aigueze in the background...

Note: the painting is unsigned, but it is undoubtedly the work of an excellent artist who has masterfully captured the beauty of the Ardèche Gorges, emphasizing the summery atmosphere of vacationers on holiday... -Note: there are a few small bumps and fine cuts, which have no real impact on the quality of the work and are fairly easy to fix - Canvas size: 65 cm x 37 cm - Please ask me for additional photos if
