Description

Bearing the dry and ink stamps of the Longwy Manufactory on the underside, this pair of serving bowls is a rarity from the late 19th century; the originality and quality of these two pieces are undeniable, and they bear their signature well. The design of these lovely, generously proportioned and scalloped pieces--featuring the small "gecko" on the handle--and the perfect white enamel, beautifully decorated with friezes and floral motifs both inside and out, forming a perfect pair for serving cakes or other treats--they'll be a stunning addition to your table... Beautiful, high-quality pieces that are both decorative and practical, free from any flaws (signed on the bottom with the collection's "Chinois" mark)--will the photos convince you?
