Description

An exceptional and rare large glazed ceramic planter (or ball vase), entirely created and signed by the renowned American designer and artist Hilton McConnico (1943-2018). This centerpiece is part of the highly exclusive "Pour Tennessee" collection, produced around 1990. Born in Memphis, the designer conceived this series of earthenware pieces as a tribute to his American roots. It showcases his genius for blending traditional folk art with the bold freedom of postmodern design. A superb monochrome glaze in bright red / oxblood contrasts with the side handles, which are entirely hand-carved in the shape of chili peppers. Their two-tone green and yellow glazing creates a bold and dramatic color contrast, an iconic signature of the artist. » The chili pepper is the artist's most famous signature
