Description

Large Virgin Crowned with Flowers Crushing the Serpent, Late 19th-Century Plaster A true gem of late 19th-century religious craftsmanship in France, this plaster Virgin depicts the Virgin Mary, crowned with flowers and in prayer, crushing the serpent--or evil--while holding the apple of original sin in her mouth. The craftsmanship is excellent, creating the illusion of a stone sculpture. The plaster is covered with a wax-like enamel, lending great realism to the intricate details, such as the facial features and the drapery. Combining a neoclassical style with a touch of Art Nouveau in its floral crown, this Virgin Mary statue is perfect for a collector of devotional statues or as a gift for a person of faith. Fast and careful shipping to France, Europe, and worldwide. Dimensions-> Height: 42 cm->
