Lombard Louis XV Chest Of Drawers

8 500 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Wallnut

Description

An elegant Lombard Louis XV chest of drawers from the mid-18th century, characterized by harmoniously undulating lines on the front and sides, in the typical Rococo style of the Po Valley region. The piece is veneered in fine walnut burl, with rich, undulating grain patterns that create a striking decorative effect across the entire surface.It features three drawers with beautiful original locks and period handles; the rounded, sinuous profile culminates in slightly curved legs that lend the structure a slender appearance. The top, also made of burl, displays meticulous craftsmanship that perfectly complements the elegance of the piece as a whole.A refined piece, typical of 18th-century Lombard craftsmanship, combining masterful execution, exquisite wood selection, and a formal harmony of great visual
