Description

Muller Frères Vase - Forest Scene with Deer
Large multilayered acid-etched glass vase, signed Muller Frères Lunéville. Its design depicts a forest of slender trees, where deer--symbols of the wild--appear discreetly. The upper portion, tinted a grayish blue, evokes a threatening sky heralding inclement weather, creating a calm and mysterious atmosphere. A fine example of the craftsmanship of early 20th-century glassmakers from Lorraine. About Muller Frères
The Muller brothers, originally from Alsace, settled in Lunéville in the late 19th century after working with Émile Gallé. Henri, Désiré, Eugène, and their brothers founded Muller Frères Lunéville, which became one of France's leading art glassworks, renowned for its naturalistic designs and its techniques of acid etching and multilayer
