Description

A very beautiful set of silver-plated metal coffee sets from the early 20th century in the Empire style. The set consists of a teapot 29 cm tall, a coffee pot 30 cm tall, a sugar bowl 22 cm tall, and a milk jug 15 cm tall. It comes with a serving tray, also made of silver-plated metal, measuring 37 × 46 cm (excluding the handles). It is in good overall condition, though there are a few minor chips and minor scratches from normal use; there is also a small dent on the tray. I was unable to take a photo of it. For more information about this beautiful set, please contact me; I'm happy to assist you.
