Description

Large patinated bronze Christ (Corpus Christi) - 19th centuryMagnificent, large bronze Corpus Christi from the 20th century. This solid bronze religious sculpture originally depicted Christ on the cross. It is now displayed on its own, making it ideal for a collector of sacred art or as a piece for a cabinet of curiosities. The work stands out for the finesse and realism of its casting (likely using the lost-wax method): the drapery of the perizonium (the loincloth), the details of the muscular anatomy, and the movement of the hair are particularly well executed. The piece features a superb natural gray-green period patina with authentic traces of oxidation that attest to its age and history.Weight: 3 kg.
