Description

19th-century Biedermeier console table, crafted from solid walnut and veneered with walnut burl, embellished with refined maple inlays and delicate gold-leaf decorations. The piece features harmonious and balanced lines, typical of the Biedermeier style, with elegantly shaped arched legs and gilded finials that lend the piece a sense of solidity and sophistication. The console is accompanied by a perfectly matching, framed mirror from the same period, which further enhances the piece's aesthetic appeal. A piece of furniture of great charm and artisanal quality, ideal for classic settings or for creating a refined contrast in contemporary interiors.
