Description

China, late Ming Dynasty, early Qing Dynasty, 17th-18th centuries, a very old Taoist wooden statue depicting one of the judges of hell. He is dressed in formal attire, with his hands in a meditative posture. On the back is a votive box with a missing lid. The piece shows traces of polychrome paint and gilding. Dimensions: Height 20 (cm). Good condition, aside from minor, inconsequential wear and a few instances of woodworm damage that have been treated. The scale reference in the last photograph is a small lighter from a well-known brand. We take special care with our packaging by using optimal protective materials. Shipping includes insurance.
