Description

Corner sofa bed designed by Charlotte Perriand for the apartments at the Résidence Nova in Les Arcs, circa 1970. Made of solid pine, it rests on a slatted frame that incorporates two large storage drawers mounted on casters, concealed behind a drop-down panel. The piece illustrates Charlotte Perriand's focus on functionality, offering furniture capable of serving multiple purposes while remaining simple to use. The seat cushion and throw pillows are covered in a gray wool fabric from Nobilis. Once the throw pillows are removed, the bench provides a sleeping surface measuring 190 × 80 cm. This version features a small side shelf. Seat height: 45 cm. Provenance: Nova Residence, Les Arcs.
