Description

Charles-Guillaume Diehl (1811-1885) - Work Table / Dressing Table - Napoleon III An elegant work table or dressing table in ebonized wood by Charles-Guillaume Diehl (1811-1885), one of the leading Parisian cabinetmakers of the Second Empire. Of elegant curving form, it is decorated with brass stringing and inlays, together with an "S.E." monogram set within a gilt cartouche. The hinged top opens to reveal an interior in figured maple fitted with a mirror. The front incorporates a sliding drawer. The table stands on four slender cabriole legs terminating in bronze sabots. The lock is signed and inscribed: "DIEHL - 19, rue Michel-le-Comte, Paris" Charles-Guillaume Diehl was one of the leading Parisian cabinetmakers of the Second Empire. Established at 19 rue Michel-le-Comte from 1853, he was
