Description

An elegant and exquisitely crafted French chandelier dating from the late 19th century, made of richly gilded bronze and adorned with exceptional Baccarat crystal. This sophisticated two-tiered chandelier features twelve lights, gracefully arranged across two tiers, creating a beautifully balanced and luminous silhouette. The chandelier is sumptuously decorated with hand-cut Baccarat crystal pendants, faceted prisms, and crystal octagons that capture and reflect light with remarkable brilliance. The warm-toned gilded bronze structure features arms with refined volutes and delicate ornamental details, characteristic of the finest French lighting fixtures from the Belle Époque. The chandelier bears the stamped mark "Aillard Paris" on one of its gilded bronze elements, indicating that it was
