

Military Drum For The Rural Guard, Infantry, Or Sappers--19th Century--wood And Brass, With Drum

450 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Diameter : 40

Height : 28

Description

A rare 19th-century military antique, this city drum consists of a cylindrical body and two drumheads held in place by period hemp braiding. Its structure includes a blackened wooden shell accented with brass trim, original leather straps fitted with metal buckles for wearing it on the body, as well as its two wooden drumsticks with brass-tipped ends. Once an indispensable tool for town criers and rural constables to gather residents for official announcements and municipal decrees, it is now a piece of cultural heritage primarily preserved in the collections of local museums. Beautiful, authentic patina from a bygone era. Dimensions: Height 28 cm x Diameter 40 cm - Additional photos available upon request; please contact us via the Proantic form. Careful shipping with tracked package within 24-48 hours.
