Description

18th-century silver goblet NANTES 1763-1764 by Jean Antoine I LUMINEAU. Tulip-shaped model, resting on a pedestal with ovals and an Amati base. Discreet surname on the rim of the base: "I Chevallier." The body is richly engraved with alternating large leaves and lambrequins on an Amati background; the neck is accented with fillets and a finely engraved frieze. The engraving is in very fine condition. Timbales of this type are rare in Brittany, and even more so with a base edged with ovals; beautiful hallmarks. Height: 10 cm. Weight: 123 grams. A lovely and rare piece of Breton silverwork from the mid-18th century.
