Description

Victorian mahogany sideboard made in England in the late 19th century. The design features a top shelf with a small openwork metal balustrade, which enhances the piece's overall aesthetic. The front features four glass-paned doors, each decorated with elegant metal grilles, lending a distinctive and refined touch. The side posts are embellished with scroll carvings, typical of the Victorian era. This sideboard represents a perfect blend of functionality and style, ideal for a space that seeks to evoke the charm of the past. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual condition of the piece as fully as possible through the photos. If certain details are not clear from the photos, please refer to the description for accuracy.
