Description

An 18th-century Piedmontese drop-front cabinet, crafted from fine walnut with bas-relief carvings depicting volutes and scrolls, elegantly ebonized across the entire surface. The front features two drawers surmounted by a drop-down door that conceals an interior compartment consisting of four drawers and a central open compartment, ideal for storing documents or small valuables. The rounded legs and paneled sides lend harmony and continuity to the design, while the curved feet add a touch of lightness and dynamism. The interior is crafted from poplar, a lightweight wood that ensures durability and strength. A piece of furniture that combines functionality and refinement, a testament to the excellence of Piedmontese craftsmanship of the era. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this product
