Description

This Djinn armchair, the work of designer Olivier Mourgue for Airborne, embodies the aesthetic of the 60s and the French Vintage Design style. Recently restored with new foams and a pinkish mocha fabric, it is ready to bring a touch of design to your interior. Its structure rests on chrome steel runners. This model is no longer produced, it is a rare piece that can only be found in vintage. This armchair is also a piece of the history of science fiction cinema since it was selected for the setting of the film: "2001, A Space Odyssey" filmed in 1968. Model: Djinn Designer: Olivier Mourgue Publisher: Airborne Period: 1960s Origin: France Materials: Fabric, chrome steel glides Color: mocha, beige Style: Vintage, Designer Restoration: The foams were changed and the armchair
