Description

A small vase with a rounded neck, adorned with four long, sinuous stems in relief and flanked by two handles shaped like anemone flowers. The Anémone-Belle Époque collection was designed in 1902 by Christofle for Perrier-Jouët and is inspired by the anemone flowers created by Émile Gallé for the Belle Époque cuvée of the famous champagne house. Several marks and inscriptions visible on the reverse: Goldsmith's hallmark (a balance with a bee between the pans, surmounted by four stars, two twigs below, and the letters OC in an oval inscribed within a rectangle), in use since 1935 Quality hallmark (square mark featuring a chess knight on the right, the letters OC at the bottom left, and the number I at the top left), in use since 1983 "Christofle" stamp Slight scratches from use on the base. Good overall
