Description

PAINTED WOODEN BIOMORPHIC RELIEF In the spirit of Jean Arp · Circa 1950-1960 · Belgian private collection Abstract wall composition formed of cut and layered plywood panels. The organic silhouettes--leaf, flame, crescent, pebble--interlock across multiple planes, creating a true colorful bas-relief. The work appears different depending on the angle and lighting. The work follows the biomorphic tradition pioneered by Jean (Hans) Arp. This is not attributed to Arp, but is a beautifully crafted Belgian piece created in the same spirit. TECHNIQUE Cut plywood, matte polychrome in multiple layers. Original hanging hardware on the reverse (eyelets + wire). Studio reverse never repainted. COLOR PALETTE Coral, mustard yellow, deep green, brown, black, cream. CHARACTERISTICS So 83.5
